AUDIENCE COMMENT

Citizen Comment: Brosman – Planning Commission Appointment
Larry Brosman, 3625 NE 9th St., Renton, 98056, expressed appreciation for his reappointment to the Planning Commission (see later this page). Mr. Brosman said this was an exciting time to serve in this capacity for the City, which is experimenting with new types of mixed-use housing to promote partnerships between the residential and business communities.

Citizen Comment: McGann – City View Plat Runoff Problems (NW 2nd St.)
Sandeep McGann, 304 NW 2nd St., Renton, 98055, described problems she and several of her neighbors are experiencing with water runoff from the City View Estates plat, located on the hill above their homes. Saying that this area used to be a nice place to live, but has now been degraded into a muddy eyesore, she added that the situation is especially dangerous in cold weather when the water freezes on the road and in people’s driveways. Although residents have complained to the City, not enough has been done. Ms. McGann concluded that if it is too late to help her and her neighbors, the City should still look at these types of issues in the future so other residents are not subjected to the same misfortune.

Mayor Tanner pledged to personally check out this site on behalf of the affected residents.

Councilman Bob Edwards noted that written information provided to the Council on this subject (see page 48) includes a memo from the City’s Code Compliance Officer Bob Arthur. Staff has documented violations by the developer and reports the penalties he will incur as a result, as well as specific requirements he will have to meet. Saying that some developers simply don’t adhere to regulations, Mr. Edwards suggested that the City might want to consider requiring more stringent review and monitoring of those who have records of prior development regulations.

Council President Parker asked that the Administration strictly enforce the City’s regulations for this plat, particularly as they apply to any deadlines given to the developer. Mayor Tanner stated that the developer has clearly engaged in illegal practices, and will be required to remediate them to the extent possible.

Responding to Council comments, Council President Parker explained that the Administration is developing a program whereby the City’s land use inspectors will work more closely with police to better address these types of situations in the future. (See page 48 for additional correspondence on this matter.)

Citizen Comment: Helgeson – City View Plat Runoff Problems (NW 2nd St.)
Dave Helgeson, 8805 S. 132nd St., Renton, 98055, introduced himself as one of the residents affected by water runoff from the City View plat and thanked the City for its attention to this matter.

FlexPass is a program whereby all regular City employees receive a Metro bus pass for their use in commuting. The City reimburses King County based on actual employee ridership. Additionally, the City has been awarded up to $7,500 in grant funding to implement the FlexPass program for the current year.

The Transportation Committee recommended that Council take the following actions:
