ROLL CALL OF COUNCILMEMBERS

The meeting reconvened at 7:30 p.m.; roll was called; all councilmembers present.

AUDIENCE COMMENT

Shannon Avery (Renton) expressed disappointment with the City’s frequently asked questions booklet regarding annexation to the King County Library System (KCLS). She opined that the booklet is biased towards annexation. She also remarked that library employees have been told not to comment about or answer any questions regarding the potential annexation or they could face legal repercussions. Ms. Avery stated that Renton taxpayers would lose the opportunity to choose what library they want to use, the items in the Renton library would no longer be readily available, and wait times for most items would increase if annexed. She also commented that Renton residents would lose local control, as not a single KCLS board member lives in Renton.

Chief Administrative Officer Covington clarified that the information booklet was approved by the State Public Disclosure Commission.

Nancy Osborn (Renton) expressed concern over the lack of available information regarding the potential annexation of the Renton libraries to the King County Library System. She opined that many members of the community are simply not aware of the benefits and disadvantages of remaining an independent library system versus being annexed into the King County system. She requested that Council make more facts and information available and remarked that until that is done, a number of people in the community will vote against annexation.

Victor Eskanazi (Renton) remarked that he is a new City resident and enjoys utilizing both the Fairwood Library and the Renton libraries. He expressed opposition to this special election remarking that he feels the annexation proposal is being railroaded through for approval. Mr. Eskanazi also expressed concerns regarding employee censorship stating that Renton Library employees should be allowed to speak about the proposed annexation.

City Attorney Warren remarked that State law restrains what people can say about a ballot issue when they are using City facilities, equipment or space. He stated that the law not only restrains what employees say, but also restricts Councilmembers and the public while on City property or while using City equipment.

Chief Administrative Officer Covington added that the position of the State is that no one is allowed to advocate for or against a ballot proposition while on City property or while using City equipment or facilities.
Ben Johnson (Renton) expressed appreciation for City Officials and staff and questioned why the City would want to give the library system over to King County. He remarked that in his experience, working with the City of Renton and its employees is preferable to working with King County and its employees. Concluding, Mr. Johnson stated that Renton voters may be willing to pay for updated and expanded independent library services.

Dave McCammon (Renton) opined that change is hard but may be necessary. He clarified that the King County Library System is not part of King County, and that they are two separate governances.
